

Have Your Say: Stanmer Conservation Area Review

Public consultation is now being undertaken on a draft conservation area appraisal and boundary review for Stanmer

Stanmer Conservation Area comprises significant elements of an 18th century designed estate landscape, including a country house, village and parkland approach.

The report identifies the special architectural and historic interest of the area, and proposes a number of recommendations and boundary changes.

The draft document can be viewed on the council's website at www.brighton-hove.gov.uk. Hard copies are available for inspection at the CityDirect Offices at Hove Town Hall and Bartholomew House.

The council welcomes your comments, which need to be submitted by no later than 5pm on 4th February 2010.
